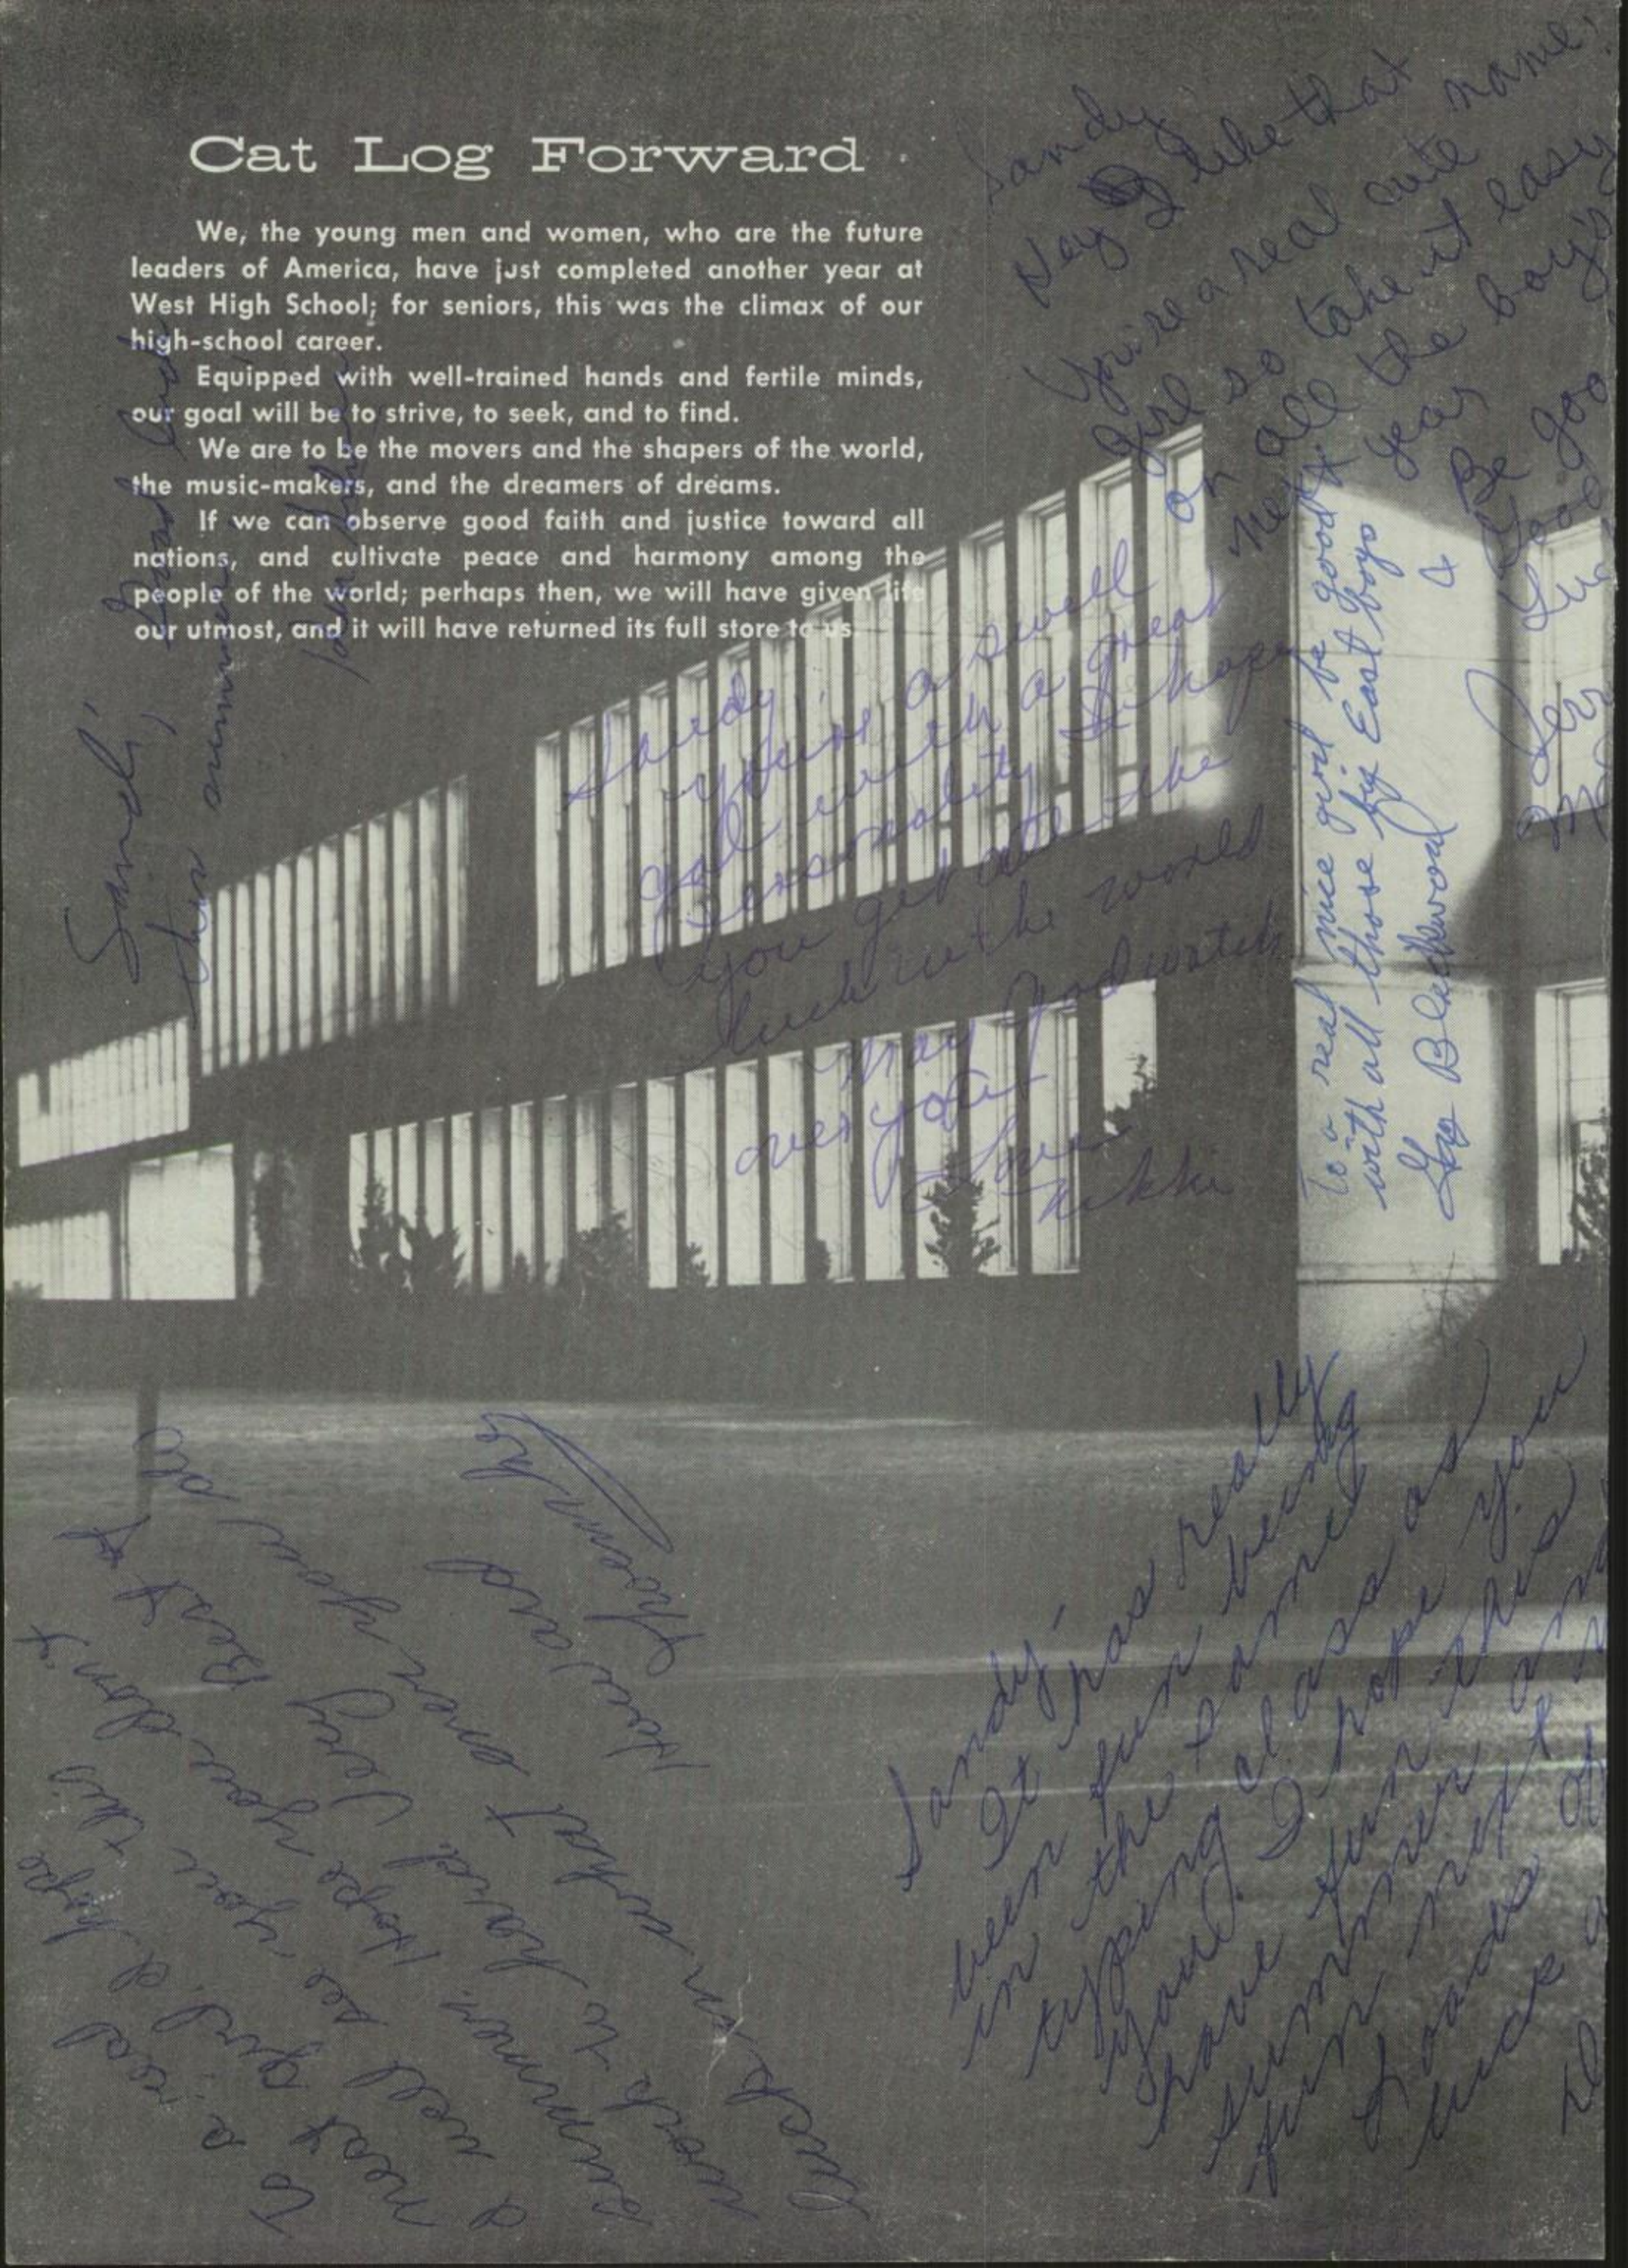
Cat Log Forward

We, the young men and women, who are the future leaders of America, have just completed another year at West High School; for seniors, this was the climax of our high-school career.

Equipped with well-trained hands and fertile minds, our goal will be to strive, to seek, and to find.

We are to be the movers and the shapers of the world, the music-makers, and the dreamers of dreams.

If we can observe good faith and justice toward all nations, and cultivate peace and harmony among the people of the world; perhaps then, we will have given life our utmost, and it will have returned its full store to us.



Hi Sandy

Students work toward future goals

In Mathematics, Science, English

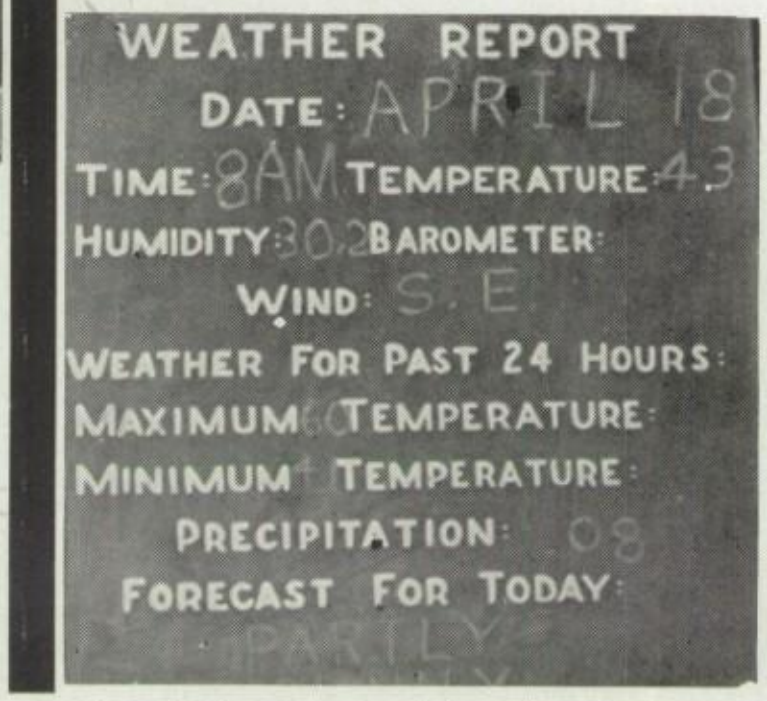
The alternate semester of a home economics class is devoted to a course in sewing. Cherie Miller (far left) concentrates on her work while Bea Myers receives help from Miss Chamberlain with a pattern.



West High students can look to this informative weather board every day to find such information as the date, temperature, humidity, and precipitation, posted every morning by members of the general science class.

Al Thomas (left) and Bruce Carter look for the cause of this car's trouble in the car shop. The extensive shop program at West proves to be valuable as students like these learn practical skills.

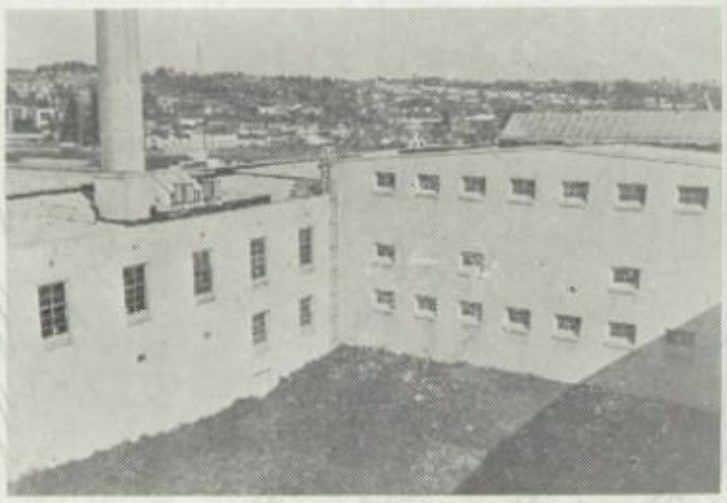
Carol Larson makes use of an adding machine in office practice. This class allows students to become well acquainted with the most common types of office activity.



West High School has one feature that its students are certain that few other halls of learning have, its hole right in the middle of the building. This picture shows the hole, the chimney on the room, and the town of Bremerton in the background. The hole has been considered a promising site for a future auditorium.

Christel Gedricks (right) shows Walter Reinhardt a picture of Hamburg, Germany. Christel is a native of Wuppertal, Germany. When she first came to our school Christel said, "I am taking German to learn English."

DANCE BAND MEMBERS—Roger Endell, Jim Sullivan, Jack Ensign, Dave Clauson, Ken Kraintz (partially hidden), Gordon Erickson, and Jim Oraker—engage in a practice session.

We will be leaders of the nations

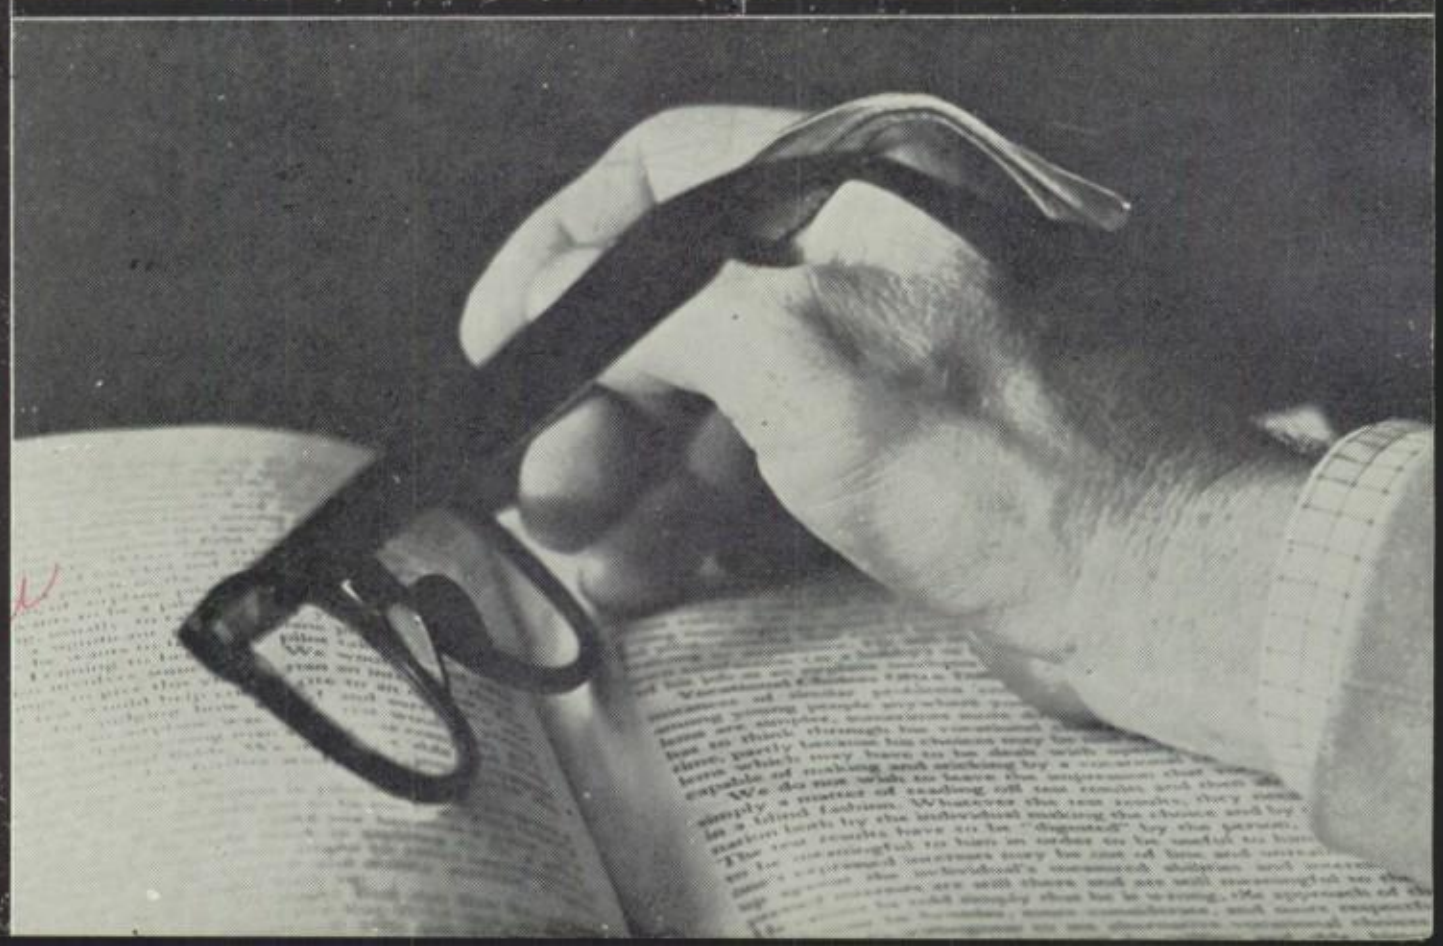
Administration



Administrators promote education

MR. FRED GRAHAM, Principal

Generally speaking, faculty and student body can look with pride on the school year 1957-1958.

We have done well in academic pursuits, in athletics, music and other activities. However, this year marks a great change.

We are all mindful of trends and the emphasis placed on them over a period of years. Certainly the present trend, and by that I mean the emphasis upon more and better academic work in high school, is one of merit. More is expected of students, more will be expected. Requirements are going up.

What does all this mean to you as a high school student? More academic courses are expected and a better quality of work is likewise expected. In return your high school diploma will have greater significance to you.

The needs of our nation have helped to bring about this change which in itself is nation wide. To keep pace, you will put in more effort and will of course derive a greater measure of satisfaction. The dividends to you should be greater. But it will still depend on you.

I would like to address a few remarks to West High Students, particularly seniors, about their future success.

Success is relative. To some it means pleasant ,constructive work with people they enjoy, founding a happy home, saving enough to own their own homes and provide an income for old age retirement, and having a couple of weeks a year for vacation.

Others are hardly content with this, knowing that their abilities can lead them to further accomplishments. But coupled with ability must be the strong desire to plan, to work, to forego pleasures others enjoy in order to reach a goal.

If you will be satisfied with nothing less than a top job, you must count the cost of the upward climb. You must face the fact that the competition is keen. You must cultivate judgment. You must concentrate on your objective.

You will find the road is steep. But many think the top jobs are worth the hard climb. Do you? Then, more power to you!

Your future is what you make it.

MR. NORMAN RICHARDSON, Vice Principal

Irene Armitage and Dot Avery have an endless job running the school's main office and serving as secretaries to Mr. Graham and Mr. Richardson. Eleanor Carter has the thankless and tedious job of keeping an attendance erocrd for every student in the school. West High students thoroughly appreciate the fine job that they do.

The cafeteria, under the supervision of Betty Tucker, prepares well-balanced meals five days a week for 1,350 students.

Mac Castle, who is head Custodian, does a fine job with the help of Walt Claeys and Mrs. Harris in keeping our school swept and clean. The extra help employed is much needed and appreciated.

The Student Council is made up of the Executive Board, Class Presidents, Student Council Representatives of each class, President of Golden Paw, the prosecuting attorney and assistant. The Executive board is composed of the Student Body Officers and the Girls' and Boys' Club Presidents. It is the legislative body of the school and discusses matters pertaining to the betterment of the school. The Student Council discusses and acts upon matters concerning the Student Body and passes or rejects bills. Council also hears the cases of all warrant holders. If they plead not guilty, they have the right of a trial by jury in Student Court.

Navy blue sweaters with white collars and regulation skirts identify these sixteen students as Girls Club Cabinet members: president, Judy Runnels; vice president, Pam Rogers; secretary, Norma Gaddis; treasurer, Louise Bailey; Penny Elias, Jann Battin, Sharon Walsh, Jean Love, Barbara Oraker, Marcia Whittaker, Delores Cigler, Nikki Norris, Judy Wold, Donna Harader, Sue Rankin, and Paddy Young. Twelve are seniors and juniors, two are sophomores, and two are freshmen.

The cabinet meets three times a month, once with the Activettes, for the purpose of directing various projects which are carried on throughout the year.

Sponsoring the Girls Club Carnival, the Mothers Tea, the All-Sports Banquet, as well as a Christmas project, were some of those activities which filled the 1957-58 year.

These girls, under the guidance of Mrs. Larkin, their adviser, contributed much to the young West High School Girls Club.

Cabinet, Activettes led the way

Composed of elected representatives, one girl from every first period class, the Activettes serve as vital links between every West High School girl and the Girls Club Cabinet.

Regulation Day, held every Monday, will find these girls outstanding in their special outfits—dark skirts and middies with red plaid ties.

Activettes serve for a minimum of one semester although some of the girls do represent their room for the entire year. They meet with the Girls Club Cabinet on the second Monday of each month.

Activette duties include: distributing Girls Club cards and creed; assisting on annual drives and projects, scouting for entertainment; and collecting ideas or criticism from teachers and girls.

Since their organization in 1956, the group has come to be an indispensible part of the Girls Club.

One of the most active organizations of West High is the Boys' Club. The administrative body, Boys' club cabinet, does the planning of activities for the school year. This year a trophy was presented to the school by the Boys' club in honor of the inspirational winner in basketball.

Assemblies and vocational conferences are the major activities put on by the club. The Boys' Club assists the Girls' Club in sponsoring the carnival and all sports banquets. Mr. Hurney is the adviser.

Representatives help pass laws

The Legislative board is composed of the Speaker of the House and a representative from each home room. Any ideas or bills that originate here are taken to Student Council. With this larger organization it gives more students a chance to voice their opinion and have a say in Student Government.

As we entered Bremerton High School in the fall of 1955 we began a new chapter in our lives. The first step in this chapter was to elect our sophomore class officers. They were: Jim Pierce, president; Elinor Dunsmoor, vice president; Pat Machgan, secretary; Barbara Stadler, treasurer; and Vicki Sinkunas, Student Council representative. Miss Shula, our adviser, helped us in beginning our high school life. We entered our Junior year at West High School, and our class officers were: Allan Gaddis, president. Elinor Dunsmoor, vice president; Vicki Sinkunas, secretary; Nancy Larson, treasurer; and Bea Irwin, Student Council representative. The Junior Prom, "Oriental Gardens," was the biggest dance of the year, and our advisers Miss Dent and Mr. Summers helped us a great deal. Our Senior year was filled with work and activities. The Senior class officers were: Paul Wade, president; Jack Cooley, vice president; Janice Burke, secretary. Pat Mcchgan, treasurer; and Charles Henderson, Student Council representative. Mr. Anderson, our adviser, helped contribute to the success of our Senior year. "King Neptune's Paradise," the Senior Ball, and our graduation were two of the final episodes in this chapter of our lives. Looking back over these three years, we know that we have been educated to meet the world of tomorrow.

West High Wildcats completed one of its best seasons in many years, with seven wins and just one loss at the hands of the Lincoln Railsplitters. The team was well balanced between good linemen and backfield men. Outstanding linemen included Jim Snell, Jim Oraker, Jerry McDonald and Don Jones. The backfield talent was Dick Dornfield, Karl Kaseburg, and Albert Thomas. West was also helped by their strong reserves.

West was a surprise power in the state this year. Not much was expected of West at the first of the season but we kept piling up wins until finally we reached the third spot in the state.

THIRD ROW—Larry Walker, Dave Stamper, Gary Scherfenburg, Jack Ensign, Joe Fletcher, Willie Fuller, John Turner, Louis West, Joe Karchesy, Ron Drake.

This football season found West High School represented by one of its finest Sophomore football teams of recent years. The young cats swept through a seven game schedule undefeated and untied.

Gary Scherfenberg, Jerry Prouse, and Dwight Cherry sparked a backfield that scored 128 points. Their rugged defensive team, spearheaded by Dennis Hudson, Bruce Carter, Norm Fosmire, and Don Ladesma, allowed only 24 points, all of which resulted from miscues inside the 10-yard line.

It is hoped that all of the Sophomores will contribute as much to the varsity football picture of the future as they have contributed this year, to the Sophomore effort.

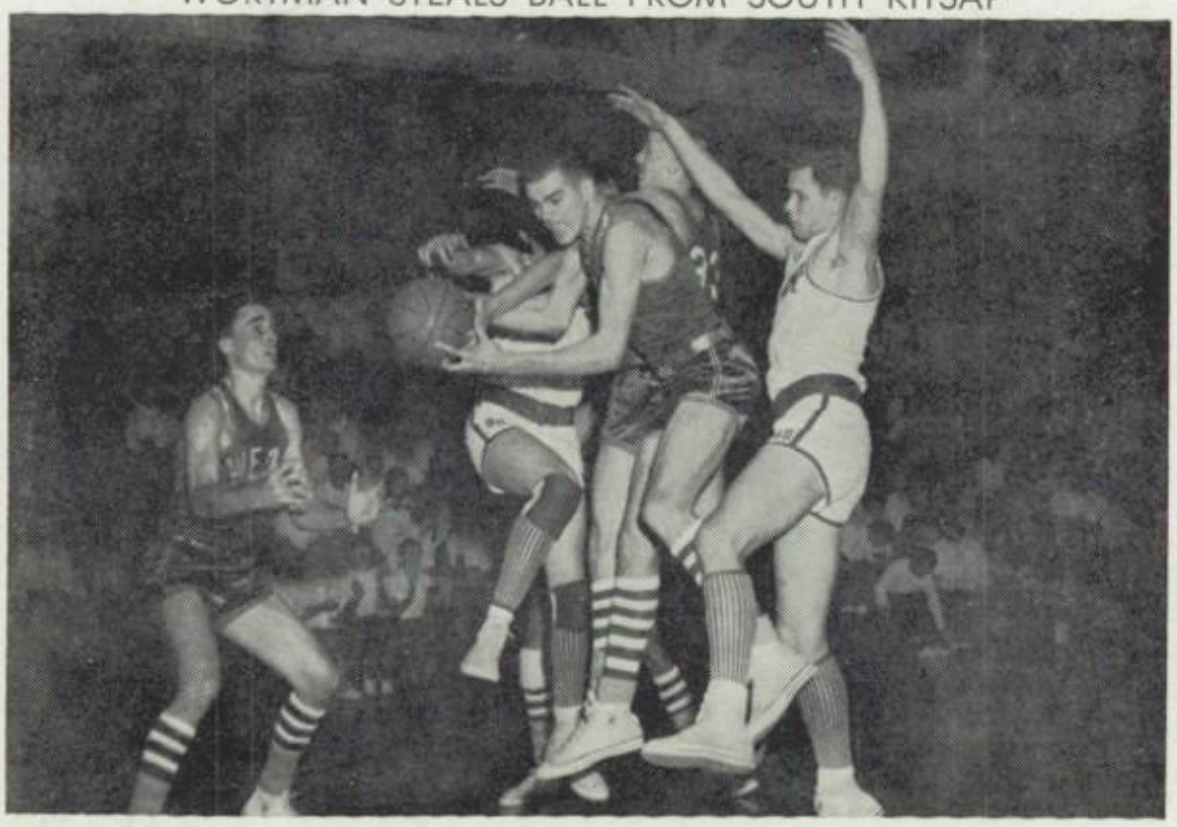
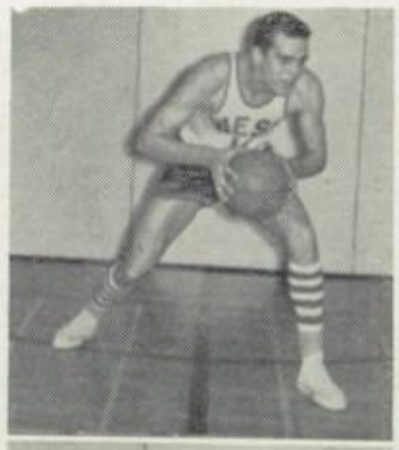
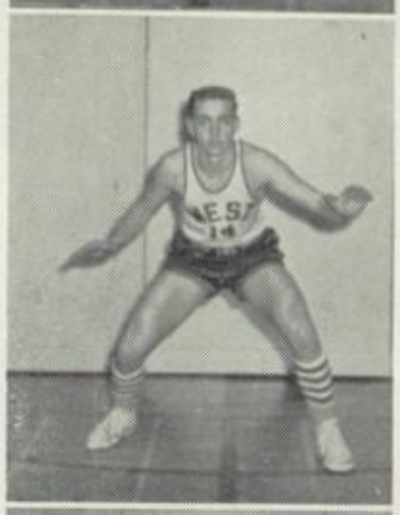
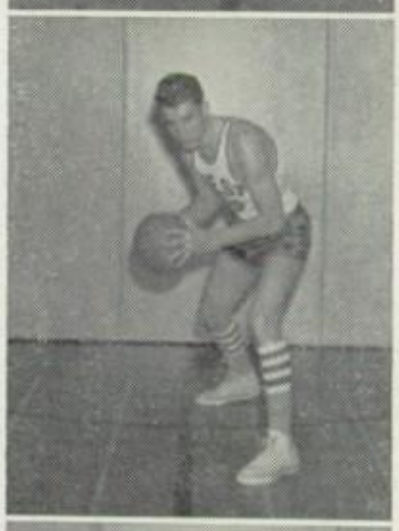
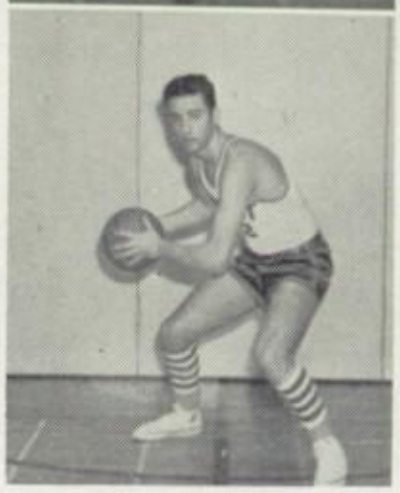
WORTMAN STEALS BALL FROM SOUTH KITSAP











Our basketball team finished their 1957-58 schedule with a total season's record of 23 wins and 4 losses, 18 wins and 2 losses of which were in regular league play. They whizzed through the Wet Central District Tourney with three straight wins to take the championship, and then went on to place sixth in the State Tournament, with their excellent ball control, fast break, and a tough man to man defense.

Glen McIlraith, Dave Wortman and Jim Oraker did great work playing the inside jobs of forwards and center while Jack Jaynes proved a versatile reserve. The guard positions were handled skillfully by captain Bill Hansen, one of th State's best court men, Jim Horn and Howard Theomke, a promising junior.

Next season, our first one in the strong Capitol League, will be a rewarding one if our boys keep up the Wildcat traditions of hard work and hustle.

The Sophomore basketball team plays the preliminary game before all varsity games. The team compiled an impressive record winning 14 while losing only 4.

Jack Demick led the Sophomores in scoring with 210 points. Ted Liner, who is a good prospect at 6' 3", led in rebounding with 142. LeRoy Peterson was the leading foul shooter with 49 counters.

It is hoped that the squad will contribute greatly to the success of the West High basketball team of the future.

The Freshman Track Team was one of the best we've seen in a long time. The only meet which they lost was to Marcus Whitman by only 6 points. The other meets they have won with comparative ease.

The Freshman team had some outstanding performers this year with Dave Simson in the hurdles and pole vault, Nyle Johnson and Brady in 50 and 100 yard dashes, Christman in the shot and discus, Harry and Jimmy Walker both running the 330, Black in the relay and Sanford in the Broad Jump.

Next year these boys will be a welcome addition to the varsity track squad.

The golf team hasn't lost an Olympic League match since 1955. This year the team that is seeking its third straight undefeated championship is composed of mostly sophomores. Jack Jaynes, a junior, has been the team's top performer, winning all of his matches by impressive scores. Chuck Rader is the team's second highest scorer with Ted Liner, Sam Josephson and Ken Silver following close behind.

With great improvement expected in such reserves as Denny Runnels, Gary Gius, Dave Josephson, and Larry Musser, we can look forward to more outstanding golf teams.

The 1958 tennis season was a good one for the Wildcat racketmen. The big guns were returning lettermen Roger Crouch and Lee Markrack, who ld the Cats to an undefeated Olympic League season. Holding down the number three spot was Doug Gehring closely followed by Larry Gillespie, Dick Fenske and Norm McFarland. Getting ready for the change over to the Capitol League, the Cats competed there also and found the competition more severe.

The West High School swim team had a successful season losing only two contests, which were won later in the return meets. The team's consistent first place winners, Harry Alguard in the medley, and Larry Magart in the 200 yard freestyle, were assets to the team. The outstanding relay teams composed of Alguard, Walters, Burroughs, Shearer, Williams, Magart, Jeffers and Balser scored many points.

The biggest thrill of the season was the win over East High after losing to them earlier in the season.

The Girls Athletic Association strives for these objectives: provide time for wholesome recreation, practice good sportsmanship and rules of healthful living, create permanent interest in sports, maintain high scholarship, be friendly and courteous to others, always conduct one's self in a lady-like manner, to take an active interest in all school activities, to maintain high ideals, and to promote leadership. Membership is open to all West High girls who are interested in intramural athletics. Miss Golz and Miss Cory, physical education teachers, are the advisers of GAA and at least one of them is present at each activity and meeting. This year tumbling was added to the list of sports, which include baseball, basketball, volleyball, badminton, archery, golf, bowling, ping pong, and tennis. Girls participating in any of these sports may earn points. A total of 500 points entitles a girl to a letter. The first year is a 5-inch "W" and the remaining letters received by the girls are 7 inches. A one year letterman is eligible for membership in the "W" club. GAA has a cabinet which acts as a legislative board. This cabinet is comprised of the girls belonging to Girls Intramural Officiating Association. The girls belonging to GIOA must pass tests on the rules of the organization and all sprots. The biggest money-making event of the year is a rummage sale. The members donate articles and work exceptionally hard to make it a huge success. During each year girls are elected to participate in Play Day. At this time each school—East, West, Central, South and North—enter select girls to compete against other teams.

G A A banquet, a delightful success

Mr. Wills presents to Nanci Blamey and Carole Bass the Inspiration Award.

Tuesday, March 25, 1958, at 6:00 p.m. marked the date of the annual GAA banquet.

The highlight of the evening was the awarding of the Inspirational Award. This year, because of a tie, awards were given to Carole Bass and Nanci Blamey. Each girl received a trophy and had her name inscribed on the Inspirational Award Plaque.

Next year's officers were also announced by the present officers. They are: President, Diana Greek; Vice-President, Marilyn Reese; Secretary, Diane Scott; and Betty Isley, Treasurer. Each new officer received an insignia of her office. This insignia fits on the GAA pin.

The trophies this year were distributed among the classes. The Bowling Trophy was presented to the Juniors. The Volleyball Trophy was presented to the Seniors and the Basketball Trophy was presented to the Freshmen.

Members of th winning class team in each sport received an insignia of that sport.

The girls who won individual awards, tumbling team awards, or were on an All-Star Team received a small cup with their name and award inscribed on it.

Only three girls received their fourth letter at the banquet this year. They were: Carole Bass, Nanci Blamey and Mary McPherson.

Referees received GIOA insignias, which were whistles.

Developing character, service, leadership and scholarship in students through recognition of these qualities is the purpose of the National Honor Society—a nation-wide organization for high school students. Juniors and seniors are eligible for membership. Their high school grades beginning with their freshman year are totaled to determine whether they are qualified scholastically. Then a list of students having the required grade points is sent to each teacher so that he may recommend students for their character, service and leadership. This year there were more than eighty-five members in the National Honor Society. The group holds its meetings, which are usually followed by programs, during school. The organization's income comes from the student management of the Cat Cave, where school supplies are sold before school and during all three lunches. National Honor

Sponsored by the Young Men's Christian Association ,Hi-Y is a club open to all boys in high school. The name Hi-Y came from the words "high school" and "YMCA." It is a national club and is represented all over the United States. The purpose of all Hi-Y Clubs is: to create, maintain and extend throughout the school, home and community, high standards of Christian character. The four planks of the Hi-Y program are: clean speech, good sportsmanship, scholarship and clean living. Hi-Y has many activities. It is affiliated with all other Hi-Y clubs and meets with Hi-Y and Tri-Y clubs at Bellingham to act as a legislative board to elect state officers, pass new bills and study the processes of drafting legislation and the problems of government. From here they go to the capital at Olympia to debate original legislation which they have studied and drafted with the aid of fellow students, teachers, legislators and state officials. The members meet once every two weeks to discuss the business of the club, then they adjourn to swimming and basketball playing at the YMCA. The club sends two officers to the legislative board in Bellingham and the legislature at Olympia, and sponsors dances, roller skating parties and other activities such as the mass tulip bulb sale by the members at the first of the year.

A lively organization that has many activities is the Spanish Club. On November 14, they held their annual fiesta. They invited Spanish students from the other high schools in the county. The entertainment provided was games, dancing and skits. Afterwards, refreshments were served. The highlight of the year was the Pan-American Day assembly, in which the other language clubs were invited to participate by electing a princess from each club. At the assembly, the "Spanish Club Award" was given to a student who showed outstanding characteristics as a club member. Last year the award went to David Drake. In the fall they sponsored a Homecoming queen candidate. The officers were: president, Bill Hansen; vice-president, Howard Gehring; secretary, Rose Higbee; treasurer, Linda Matthews; inter-club council representative, Anne Ringness. Latin Club held state convention

Financing the Washington State Junior Classical League Convention in November highlighted the year of the Latin Club. The members filled the treasury by selling concessions at every home game and maintaining a booth at the Girls Club Carnival. Barbara Huebschman, state president, presided over the convention held at Coontz Intermediate School. At the convention Norma Gaddis was elected state vice-president. Club members sponsored an initiation banquet to acquaint the new members with the club. They also chose a Pan American Day princess. Leading the club was Karen Fedt, president. Other officers were: Annette Molitor, vice-president; Carolyn Reese, secretary. Connie Wigdahl, treasurer; Jim Giggans, inter-club council representative. Miss Dungan is the adviser.

President James Giggans, working with his officers: vice-president, Bill Mathinson; secretary, Sharon Butterweck, treasurer, Judy Hagg; inter-club council representative, Ellen Bert; and Mr. Chenier, adviser, lead the French Club through another year. The treasury was swelled with profits from two cupcake sales, a bake sale at a local store and a telegraph and hand-writing analysis booth at the Girls' Club Carnival. The club sponsored Stephanie Dahlberg for Homecoming Queen candidate and chose a Pan-American Day princess. In an effort to have the members become better acquainted with each other, the members went on a ski excursion to Steven's Pass and held several parties. Attending a Broadway show in Seattle was planned for late spring.

F.H.A. works for a better world

Promoting the idea of making our homes, communities and our nation better places in which to live is the aim of the Future Homemakers of America. Members held a Christmas banquet with the South Kitsap F.H.A. Chapter, had an apron sale and worked on other projects. Working under the fine leadership of the president, Linda Duke, the club prospered. Other officers were the vice-president, Myra Jo Madden; treasurer, Jackie Duke; secretary, Jacky Sorenson. The advisers were Miss Chamberlain, Mrs. Lynch and Mrs. Jacobson.

With their motto, recreation as a reward for work well done, serving as a guidepost, the Outdoor Club members have spent a busy year, as they divided their time between service projects and activities as camping, skiing and climbing. An Outdoor Club member may be found doing any one of a number of things: repairing or renovating climbing equipment, cutting wood for the Mt. Baker ski trip, selling hiking maps around the peninsula, building a toboggan slide on the Santa Claus Parade float, washing dishes on the Mt. Baker ski trip or contributing to the Christmas project. Recreation has taken many forms this year. In the fall members enjoyed camping at Sol Duc Falls and hiking to Deer Lake and the High Divide area. The three day trip to Lower Lena Lake was a combined service and recreation trip, for shakes were split, ditches dug, camp areas cleaned and general repairs completed on the large shelter. The ski season offered recreational trips to Snoqualmie Pass and Stevens Pass, with a five day trip to Mt. Baker during Christmas vacation. A ski class was held at Snoqualmie. As spring arrived skiing gave way to climbing interests, with many members taking the Olympic College climbing course. The monthly meetings were highlighted by speakers such as Ome Daiber, Bill Unsold, Bill Brockman, Louis Whittaker and George Martin—experts in mountaineering and skiing, who brought to the club not only fascinating pictures and anecdotes, but also sound advice, which challenged, encouraged and inspired everyone interested in outdoor activities.

Planning the Homecoming activities of West High School is the main project of the Chamber of Commerce. These include publicity, the election of the Homecoming court, the coronation assembly and making the dance and football programs. Although the game with Lincoln of Tacoma was postponed by a flu epidemic, the assembly and dance were held as scheduled. The Homecoming coronation was held in the school gym. The theme was "Let's Go West." A path over a small pond led the way to the thrones where court was held in a make-believe garden. "Queen Sharon" was written on a colorful rainbow in the background and the princesses' names were written in silver on the sides of the hill. Entertainment included the Modernaires and a hula dance. The chairman was Janice Burke and her co-chairmen were Sandra Nichols, Jackie Sorenson, Sharon Ness and Barbara Simning. The Chamber of Commerce's lovely candidate, Barbara Simning, was elected as one of the princesses. All of the programs at the football games were made and sold by Club members. A scholarship is awarded to a deserving senior at the end of the year. This year's officers were: president, John Pickett; vice-president, Bob Topness. secretary, Nikki King; treasurer, Diane Wylie; inter-club council representative, Bea Irwin and sergeant-at-arms, Russell Roberts. Inter-Club Council unites groups

Correlating the activities of the clubs at West High School keeps the Inter-Club Council one of the busiest West High organizations. The membership not only includes a representative from every active club in the school but also includes delegates from the Boys and Girls Clubs and the freshman, sophomore, junior and senior classes. One of the many duties of this organization is to judge the various assemblies put on during the year and to select the best assembly of the year. This is judged by a chart and a voting system. A study of Parliamentary Procedure proved worthwhile for it has helped each club and its officers. Highlight of the year was the organizing of the booths for the clubs at the Girls Club Carnival. They work with the help of the advisers, Mrs. Larkin and Mr. Hurney. This year's officers are: president, Jim Horn; vice-president, Jim Giggans; secretary, Louise Bailey; treasurer, Ellen Bert.

"Willing to work hard" is the motto of the Junior Red Cross. The members strive to promote better relations between nations and their inhabitants. The two biggest projects of the year were the membership and fund drives in the fall and the collection of toys for retarded childrn. They also had many ward parties to entertain servicemen in the U. S. Naval Hospital. The members sponsored an assembly featuring a speaker who had worked for the Red Cross in Europe. Many of the school's outstanding students also performed. Last summer Rebecca Shock and Jack Keyes were sent from the West High Chapter to a leadership conference in Bellingham. Their training has helped the club to function better. This year's officers were: president, Rebecca Shock; vice-president, Jack Keyes. secretary-treasurer, Rose Daugherty; inter-club council representative, Judy Dobrowski. Mr. Isaacson is the adviser.

Working under the leadership of Youth for Christ, the Hi-C Club is an inter-denominational high school group which strives to promote fun and fellowship and to aid students in living a fuller, richer life. Local ministers, youth directors and well-known evangelists were invited to speak in order to further these goals. One of the most outstanding of these was eighteen-year-old Reni Marts, the girl evangelist and recording star who sings and speaks in sixteen languages. During the months of February through June, the Hi-C clubs of the county sponsored a contest in which the winner was awarded an expense paid trip to Winona Lake, Indiana, site of the Youth for Christ convention. Gavaleers assisted Debate Club

Under the leadership of Jim Thurston, Gary Cheny and Bea Irwin, the Gaveleers Club worked to introduce public speaking and its advantages to the students. The club worked in conjunction with the Debate Team to prepare for and to conduct the three tournaments at West High. In January they presented an assembly before the student body explaining the details of good public speaking, interpretive reading and pantomime.

The meetings, giving all students a chance to understand parliamentary procedure, were conducted during the second and third period classes of public speaking, taught by Mr. Bemis. The Girls Club Carnival afforded the club a chance to increase its treasury. A bingo game was supervised by members, who provided the prizes.

Debate team attended tournaments

Having spent the year in practice and learning, the Debate Club has developed into a competent team. Within the Olympic League the team journeyed to Bainbridge, North Kitsap and Peninsula High Schools. West served as host for the district jamboree and three other tournaments. The team participated in Debate, Interpretive Reading, Extemporaneous, Impromptu and after-dinner speaking at Seattle Pacific College and Pacific Lutheran College. Mr. Bemis is the coach.

To propagate vocational understanding, civic consciousness, social intelligence and leadership development are the criteria by which Retailer's govern themselves. Consider the club's most outstanding activity was the week-long March of Dimes campaign carried on during the month of January. During this week members sold symbolic crutches to students and townspeople and initiated a contest to stimulate contributions for guessing the number of dimes in one of the display cases. Winners were Margaret Irwin, who won a radio and David Hansen, who won a camera. Through the sale of hats and pom-poms, the club raised their financial stature considerably. Cashiers for all ticketed events were members who donated their earnings to the treasury. Posters and signs were also made for various activities and organizations, not only of the school but also of the community. Climaxing an eventful year, a joint-banquet with East High Retailers was held. Each club presented an award to their choice for the outstanding employer of the year. Affiliated with the National Distributive Education Organization, Retailers are one of the organized Distributive Education Clubs of America. They play a vital role in displaying the outstanding personality of the West High School student body.

Promoting school spirit is the purpose of West High's Pep Club. The officers worked together with the cooperation of the club members and their adviser, Mr. Manzo. This year the officers wore uniforms—white sweaters and dark skirts. A new merit system was developed. Letter megaphons with the word "Pep" on them were earned after ten hours of time had been put into club activities. Time could be earned in many ways: attendance at games, homecoming activities, working in the snow cone booth at the Girls Club Carnival and working on the several cup cake sales. In addition to these money making projects, they sponsored a dance. During basketball season, they put on a skit at a pep assembly. Through the club's many activities, West High School has gained in school spirit.

Delegates had an enjoyable week

Boys State is a realistic experience in learning about government through actual experience with it for five days. Civic groups sponsor outstanding boys who will be leaders of tomorrow to participate. They hope that those who are chosen will radiate their enthusiasm about freedom, government and civic needs to their fellow students and future citizens. Jim Giggans, who was elected mayor of his city, Allan Gaddis, who was a county party official and was elected to the House of Representatives, Jim Oraker, who was on the championship basketball team and Paul Wade, who was elected to the senate, were West High's delegates. They brought back many ideas and suggestions that have helped West High School and its students.

Teaching young women the fundamentals of good government, while allowing them to enjoy a week of study, fun and election, were the objectives of the 1957 session of Evergreen Girls State, held at Central Washington College of Education from July 2-7. Elinor Dunsmoor, who was elected mayor of her city, Judy Runnels, who served as a municipal judge and as a senator, and Darleen Jonas, who was elected to a city commissioner position, were the three delegates representing West High School. The All-American City award is given annually to the city that has done the best job. Two girls are also chosen to represent Washington State in Washington, D.C., at Girls Nation.

SITTING IN THE FOREGROUND—Carolyn Batty, Mayor of Princeton and Judy Runnels, West's delegate.

Many posters were made at Girls State for the elections.

Sandy, I haven't known you very long but you in my opinion are a real nice girl. Best of luck in all your future endeavors.

The first formal dance on the horizon was the spectacular Senior Ball. This year's theme was "King Neptune's Paradise" and the Seniors followed through with underwater decorations. The night of the dance came with a crowded, colorful floorful of couples. Elected as Senior couple were Jann Battin and Glen McIlraith.

The Sweetheart Swirl offered another chance for the girls to do the choosing of a partner. The Swirl is getting bigger every year. This year it was held by West High's "W" Club in conjunction with the East High "E" Club. The theme was a tomorrow land type, with rocketships invading the gym. The sweethearts chosen to reign over the Swirl were Carol Larson and Larry Finneman.

The Cotton Ball and the Junior Prom were the big spring affairs, which finished off our very successful school dances for 1958.

Pan American Day 1958

Pan American Day is celebrated on April 14 in commemoration of the 1890 formation of the Pan American Union. This day was proclaimed a legal holiday in 1931 by Presidential proclamation. On this day the flag of the Americas is flown and many programs and festivals take place.

At West High School, the Pan American Day assembly is sponsored by the Spanish Club under the supervision of Mrs. Spooner and is participated in by the Latin Club, French Club, German Club, and the Spanish Club. Each club chooses a princess to serve on the court; Spanish Club chooses a Queen in addition to a princess.

At this year's program, Janice Burke reigned as Queen, with Barbara Huebschman, Susan Lund, Carol Chandler, and Claudia Taylor as her princesses. After the Queen was crowned by Bill Hansen, Master of Ceremonies, the entertainment was given. Each club put on a skit in the theme of their language. French Club gave a skit about Paris; German Club gave a humorous version of "Hansel and Gretel;" Spanish Club showed the trials of a non-Spanish speaking American in a Mexican cafe; Latin Club provided a skit about the Roman Gods. After the skits, the Swingmasters played some Latin-American songs and the Modernaires sang.

The decorations were beautiful, and were planned to coincide with each girls' dress. The seats that the court sat on were covered with crepe paper the same color as the dress. The streamers of crepe paper which sprayed out from an overhead ring also matched the dresses. Flowers lined the outside of the platform and marked the path on which the Court entered and left the gymnasium.

This assembly is traditionally one of the most beautiful of the year.

Thespians, troop 1592, is a branch of the National Thespian Society, a drama honorary. Receiving its charter in 1956, troop 1592 now has 18 members. Membership is obtained on a point system by participation in play productions. The Thespians worked on this year's Senior Play and All-School Play. The members also presented "Rumpelstiltskin" to Bremerton children. A side-show and candy booth were the Thespian's features at the Girls' Club Carnival. Formal initiation of new members was in May. Troop 1592 will send three members to Purdue, Indiana, in June. The students will attend classes in costumes, lighting, make-up, creative dramatics and many more classes. Each class will be headed by a professional in that field. Members will also see plays ranging from "Ala Baba and the Forty Thieves" to "Macbeth."

The play chosen for the All-School play this year was "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes." This is the story of two young girls going to Paris, alone, and without any money. The situations they get into and the ways they get out of them made a very laugh-provoking and delightful comedy.

Under the very able direction of Mr. Robert Chenier, drama teacher, Ellen Bert (Loreli) and Claudia Taylor (Dorothy) did very good jobs as the two lead parts. Other members of the cast, who did very good jobs, were Mack Morrison, Bob Gratton, Vicki Robinson, Suzanne Walton, Carol Selvidge, Bobby Austin, Lynn Jacobson, Barbara Huyck, Jim Orr, Lorraine Boothe, Ruth Ann Cole, Jim Piatt, Sally Williams, and Barbara Gailliac. Prompting for the first time was Karen Lofthus.

The stage manager, Doug Keyes, did a fine job of helping the crew through the many difficult scenery changes in the play. Assisting Mr. Chenier and playing a small part was student director William Berry.

Through the co-operation of all the people involved, the play was well put together and was received nicely.

Mr. Chenier's sixth period drama class this year decided to have another children's theater production. This year they chose "Rumplestilksin" as the children's play. Two years ago the drama classes put on "Sleeping Beauty" and last year the production was "Jack and the Beanstalk." Every year it proves to be one of the most thrilling productions of the year.

The entire cast is chosen from the drama class. Those who make up the cast then begin learning their lines and developing their character. They spend many long hours of hard work doing this. Those who are not in the play find many jobs of interest that have to be done. Those not in the play as well as the members of the cast did such jobs as: finding a spinning wheel, finding straw, making giant pies, making flour sacks, making flower chains, and making spun gold. These were just a few of the many jobs that had to be finished to make the production a success.

There were eight performances put on for all the grade schools. They were very appreciative audiences and they showed their appreciation by sending pictures they drew of the play and sending letters about the play or individual actors. The drama class looked forward to receiving these. The play proved very successful and the drama class as well as the director felt they had done a good job this year.

Seniors choose "Time Out for Ginger"

Time Out For Ginger starts out with a fairly staid banker who needs some sort of creative release and finds it in lecturing to local high school classes on the need for self-fulfillment. It quickly develops. however, that one of the banker's daughters—the youngest of three—has been very much impressed by her father's exhortions. She has further decided that her own fulfillment can best be realized by going out for the football team. Any number of complications result: the father's job is jeopardized because the bank president doesn't approve; the girl's elder sisters insist that their social life is blighted—especially the sister whose boyfriend is captain of the football team; and the girl football player herself finds that playing football and being a girl aren't always compatible, particularly when her own boyfriend disapproves of what she's doing. After any number of riotous mishaps, the play ends on a tender note with the whole family going out to see one of the older sisters in a high school play, with Ginger escorted.

Nancy Larson played a sparkling Ginger who kept her parents, Jim Orr and Barbara Huyck, constantly going trying to pacify the rest of the family—Judy Hagg and Vicki Sinkunas; quelsh the irrepressible maid, Ruth Ann Cole; deal with the boyfriends—Mack Morrison and Don McDermond; and hold on to the father's job, which is held in balance by Bill Berry as the banker. Steve Dunning played the High School principal.

Hard work and fun are combined in the editing of a yearbook. This year's Cat Log class learned quickly that the yearbook class wasn't going to be as easy as we thought it would be.

September saw us in a muddle of terms and formulas, which Mr. Broetje told us to learn. Later, the real work came in. All of the seniors in the school had to be photographed and the pictures cut and mounted.

The clubs were organized and pictures were taken of them.

About this time we were informed that everything written must be in triplicate, so we started drawing layouts for our sections, writing running titles and cutlines, and gathering copy from teachers. While all this was going on in the journalism department, the business department was busy getting advertisements, collecting money and ordering covers.

Finally, when the scramble ended, the Cat Log emerged intact and we sat back and looked at the result of our work. It was worth all the worry and work, and we are proud of the 1958 Cat Log.

The Lair staff reported the news

The news headquarters of West High School is located in room 112, better known as the Wildcat's Lair.

The latest in news and enjoyable features have been brought to you by the hard working Lair staff. Suggestions from the students have always been welcomed, because this is your school paper and suggestions from you help us to put out the type of reading matter you like to read.

There is more hard work connected with putting out a school paper than anyone outside of Journalism class could imagine. The stories first must be found and then assigned to the various students in the class. Fleming Jeffrey, sports editor, gives all the assignments to his sports staff: Glen McIlraith, Larry Finneman, and Allan Gaddis, and writes stories himself.

Janet Zeigler, our editor, has the job of finding stories to assign the reporters: Mary Morris, Jim Orr, Steve Grubb, John Marks, John Wessel, Susan Beck, Robin Luethe, Dave Sheriff, Mildred Lewis, Norma Gaddis, Jeannette Oien, Marianne Herdman, Marilyn Wardin, and Sue Owen, and being sure they get in on time. Picture assignments are given to Dale Crawford by assistant editor, Karen Smestad and then she arranges the pictures with whomever has the story.

The stories are sought after by the reporters and typed by them, so that thy may be vari-typed by our vari-typists, Jeannette Oien, Dorothy Stuart, and Janet Ziegler.

Judy More, Karen Smestad, Janet Ziegler, Fleming Jeffrey, Dianna Kirk, Eleanor Dunsmore, and Judy Runnels, page editors, have the job of seeing that their pages are all pasted down and ready to be engraved.

Our adviser, Mr. Jacobsen, advises the students as to how they should write stories and where they should be placed when they are being pasted.

Bob Junell and Caron Cunningham do wonderful jobs as Advertising Manager and Business Manager respectively.

Under the direction of Mr. Ralph Manzo, the West High School Modernaires have won the distinct honor of being recognized as one of the best modern choirs in Washington state and the Pacific Northwest.

They are under constant demand by organizations in our local community and in neighboring communities. Among their many performances this year was an assembly honoring Senator Henry M. Jackson, who became an ardent Modernaire fan.

The group is comprised of the top vocalists of the school. They must meet, in addition to a musical standard, personal character and scholastic requirements. Once in the group, each student must maintain a high standard to be a regular performing member.

At the present time forty-two members are enrolled in this group, but only thirty-six members are privileged to be employed in regular performances.

To be a member of this group is indeed an honor and a privilege.

The West High School Choir is ranked among the best in this state. Over a period of years this group has made an outstanding name for itself in competition festivals and in concerts and this year has been just as successful. In its public appearances, this group performs only the acceptable choral literature. This year in the field of music literature, the choir performed the famous Faure Requiem for the Easter season. This is a typical example of the difficult selections that the choir works out and performs with exceeding skill.

The group is comprised of approximately one hundred members who must maintain a high musical standard. Only those with a musical sincerity and desire are invited to remain in the group. This group works diligently and sincerely toward musical perfection.

Orchestra

The orchestra got off to a flying start this year and before it was over, they had performed for most of the downtown social organizations and business clubs.

In the fall the Orchestra combined forces with the Modernaires on many occasions, and at the Christmas Concert, the two groups did the first performance in this area of the Fred Waring arrangement of "The Nutcracker Suite." This alone was not their paramount effort for at Easter, the Orchestra and a 100 voice choir did the "Requiem" by Gabriel Faure. Another accomplishment of the year was the purchase of dresses for the girls in the string orchestra and by using the dance band coats for the boys, the West High String Orchestra was one of the better dressed groups of this area.

At the Solo Contest held at East High School, the violin quartet consisting of Rose Higbee, Dave Hanson, Earl Whitmore and Norma Hanson, distinguished itself by earning a Superior rating. Others in the Orchestra also received superior ratings for their solo efforts.

Mr. Bissell loses only two seniors through graduation this year so he is anticipating an even better group next year.

Under the direction of Mr. William E. Bissell, the West High School Band has made further strides this year towards being recognized as one of the finer high school bands of the state. Beginning in early summer, the band marched in the Seattle Seafair Parade and in September, took the Sweepstakes award in Port Orchard's "Days of 49" parade.

Then came the football season and the band's intricate halftime shows, which they did exceedingly well.

In November it was the Santa Claus parade in Seattle and, of course, the Christmas Concert in December.

January and February saw the band preparing for the Annual Swing Concert. In March they followed the team through the district basketball tournament and on to the State Tournament. In April the band went again to Tacoma to compete in the Daffodil Parade, in which they had taken first place in 1957. April and May meant much hard work as the band prepared to go to Portland, Oregon as an Honor Band in the Rose Festival parade. This was one of the band's most important events.

This year's band was young but capable as was proven by its fine showing in the many events in which it participated.

Sandy goes Howard For 1¢

Sandy
I think you're really nice. I wish you were going with that black knight, just joking. Be good this summer, but have fun.
Club Milo

Sandy:
Be good this summer and I hope I see you this summer. I can't say something Friday night. I'll see you Tuesday. Oh! well, it was just thought. See you (now) by George Wollis.

Best of luck in future years - Hope to see you next year.
Tom Ellis

Dear Sandy
It has been really fun this year going around with you. You are a sweet girl with a real personality. I hope to see a lot of you this summer. You better come and visit me. I hope you are in one of my classes next year.
Love
Carol
Crum

Dear Sandy,
It has been lots of fun knowing you. You are one of the sweetest girls and the cutest I know.
Lots of Luck
Billie
Houghton

Sandy, Hope you have a nice summer. Have fun. Don't get into too much trouble. Have a good time. Study hard. Don't forget your friends. Have a good time. Study hard. Don't forget your friends.

Best wishes and all the happiness in the world in the years to come.

Florence Eaglison

Sandy -
Done with the Pine finally. One year left & I'll be looking for you. Your suggestions helped a lot. Keep smiling - Love Sally

Dear Sandy,
It's been a long time since I first met you and you're still as adorable a sweet as you have always been.
Keep up the good work.
God bless you,
Diane

Dear Sandy,
It has been very nice knowing you this year. I wish you the best of luck in the years to come. Have fun this summer. Be sure to take Bookkeeping II + III next year.
Charen Cehrey

Dear Sandy,
It's been a real nice year. Hope you have a real sweet girl. Have fun with Jake this summer. See you this coming year.
Phil Burroughs

Dear Sandy,
